How Can Companies Accelerate Workforce Training Without Relying on Outside Consultants?

Delivering comprehensive and cost-effective training to thousands of employees

Lekkerland SE & Co. KG offers “convenience” to the thousands of convenience stores it supports across Europe. From food marts and department stores to gas stations and tobacco shops, the wholesaler supplies a complete and uniquely tailored range of consumer products to each location, including 60,000 retail outlets in Germany alone. Lekkerland relies on a large, talented workforce to execute its complex, high-speed wholesale operation. However, to stay fully responsive to its retail customers, it needed to improve the speed and reach of its workforce training program.
Lekkerland employees are empowering themselves and the business with self-service, workflow-integrated training.

By deploying the cloud edition of the SAP® Enable Now solution, Lekkerland SE & Co. KG is:

• Delivering in-context training to almost 2,000 employees and growing
• Leveraging the skills and knowledge of 150 key users to train its entire workforce
• Deploying self-guided, interactive learning to employees without live trainers
• Embedding in-context training within common applications such as Microsoft Word
• Saving external training costs by using internal expertise and documentation
• Establishing a single, shared training source that’s available to every employee with a single click

“SAP Enable Now gives our employees a full range of training options that are in the context of our processes. By using the solution’s desktop assistant for embedded training, our employees can get help without involving other busy employees.”
